Hygienic manufacturing process

The meat processing facility equipped with the latest system has secured stability and reliability with HACCP certification. The automated packaging process minimizes process time to prevent oxidization of product, and suppress harmful bacterium.

Livestock product processing and sales

It provides information to the consumers by back-tracking the manufacturing process using the recent technology of carcass records tracking system. By efficiently improving the structure and practice of existing market, it is responding to changes from manufacturer-centered to consumer-centered market.

Vertical integration

We have achieved vertical integration through a strategic service business cooperation with experts who have long experiences and skills in livestock industry. Based on this, we are expanding our market share with stable shipment and reasonable prices.
